STRATEGIC PROJECT

ORA Cockpit - Retail Operations Intelligence Platform | Independent Project

Used internally to support management reporting and faster performance follow-up

Built independently to solve a practical retail operations problem: data existed across systems, but managers needed faster visibility into sales, visitors, conversion, targets, stock, products, employees, and branch gaps during the trading day.

- Built an hourly-updated retail cockpit connected to Microsoft Dynamics 365 data through API workflows, with SQL-backed datasets and Vercel-hosted reporting pages.
- Created Excel-based mapping structures to align D365 sales data with branch hierarchy, employee ownership, product codes, store locations, and SQL database reporting logic.
- Developed KPI views for sales, visitors, invoices, conversion rate, average ticket, customer value, target achievement, branch ranking, and geographic branch visibility.
- Implemented Like-for-Like comparison logic with Hijri/Gregorian season awareness to compare Ramadan, Eid periods, campaigns, and equivalent prior-year periods more accurately.
- Designed target-splitting logic for 10-day and 15-day cycles, including surplus/deficit carry-forward by branch and employee.
- Added product, stock, market basket, missed opportunity, and hourly sales analysis to support stock follow-up, cross-selling, staffing focus, and campaign timing.
- Configured KPI warning indicators to highlight drops in sales, conversion, ATV, visitors, or target achievement, enabling faster in-day corrective action.
- Enabled PDF/Excel exports for branch reports, employee performance, product analysis, management summaries, and target tracking.

Tech Stack: React, TypeScript, Vite, SQL-backed data mapping, Microsoft Dynamics 365 APIs, Vercel, Power BI, Advanced Excel, SheetJS, jsPDF.

LEADERSHIP PHILOSOPHY

- Sales and target achievement are the final result. Behind them are people, stock availability, traffic, timing, customer behaviour, and execution discipline.
- Data before decisions - KPIs are diagnostic tools, not blame tools. I first identify the real source of the gap: traffic, conversion, stock, average ticket, timing, or team behaviour.
- Buy-in before execution - I explain the reason behind the direction before asking the team to change the way they work.
- Develop on the floor - the strongest coaching happens during real selling moments, one skill and one behaviour at a time.
- Systemise before scaling - if a process depends on one person remembering it, it is a risk; I prefer routines, dashboards, and clear follow-up frameworks.
